

South West Mediation - the family mediation practice that is based in Southernhay in Exeter - has just launched its new website. The firm's new website - at www.southwestmediation.co.uk - explains how mediation can ease the process of separation and divorce.

The company says that family mediation helps couples, whether married or not, to discuss and resolve any issues connected with separation or divorce in a thoughtful and co-operative way.

The website has been designed and built by Revell Research Systems, the Management and Technology Consultancy based in Exeter. The website is compliant with important web standards to ensure that as many visitors as possible can access it, as well as complying with the recent Companies Act 2006.

John Loram, a director and founder of South West Mediation, remarked on his firm's new website: "I am really pleased with its design and quality. It is both eye-catching and informative."
